Hey, female sex traffickers are treated worse, like whores or sluts, especially if they traffic men their age or older. Any man they sell as a prostitute will punch them around, rape them back, or even kill them. In other words, women who treat men like sex objects face hostile sexism compared to women who don't. It happens when women travel abroad and do that to men as well, especially in highly patriarchal societies where it's considered unfeminine for women to be sexually aggressive and assertive towards men while men are supposed to be the pursuers.

You really are naive as hell! Men are beaten too in rapes! So are boys! How do you think sexual human trafficking happens? It's a hellish underworld and the media feeds off of dupes like you who want to believe women are "treated worse" when woman AND men are treated like chattel trash! Beaten, raped tortured, murdered! And WTH does women not being scene as feminie for being sexual aggressive got to do with male victims????? That where you WRONG anyway! Many programs on TV promotion female sexual aggression! Youre either a naive dupe OR a male who is a traumautized sex abuse victim using the age aold sterotypes in women to wash away your hurt!
