

By: Link Deas

THE COLLECTOR

November 2012

Issue No. Seventeen

Tom Robinson is Innocent, The Court Should Be Punished

The court should be punished due to the decision on an innocent man. The verdict for the Tom Robinson trial is very wrong with no support to even prove it was true. The prosecution didn't have any reliable evidence that would prove that Tom Robinson was really the one that raped Mayella Ewell.

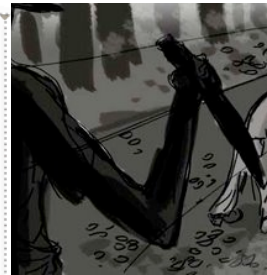

Mayella's statements are not true and shouldn't be used against Tom. Why should the court even believe Mayella's accusations, her body language showed that she was holding something back.

Her face revealed a story that was untold

Bob Ewell Sneaking into Judge Taylor's House

Bob Ewell's guilty acts, trying to hurt Jem

Tom Robinson is Innocent, The Court Should Be Punished

(CONT)

For example, when the defence would ask her a question such as Tom holding her, she would look away as if she was remembering a script not the real situation, if it was so horrible she should remember more easily. Second, she couldn't get her story straight and contradicted herself with many statements. She also stuttered a lot as if her mind was running a mile a minute, as if she was making something up and could not come up with it fast enough.

What did not help Tom Robinson is that he often when in her house, which could lead him to be guilty since he is familiar with the house. However, I do not think that he actually wanted to, it was just since he is a respectful person he chose to help her with whatever she needed. What also messed his trial up was he he felt sorry for her and a colored person should feel sorry for a white person. So that also contributed to him being guilty.

Tom Robinson is a very respectful and truthful person being that he works on my farm. I would definitely say that he is more truthful than Bob, and Tom really wouldn't have done this. Mayella never mentioned him in his previous visits trying to make a move on her, so why would he rape her. I can say why, because he did not. Tom is innocent and the court should be held responsible for convicting an innocent person.

The real one who should be charged with rape is Bob Ewell, Bob Ewell is left handed, Tom cannot use his left so that would give you a possible reason to explain Mayella face. Bob Ewell is drunk and aggressive most of the time which also leads you to believe Bob Ewell is responsible. Bob Ewell behavior after the trial showed guilt such as trying to hurt Jem, trying to break into the judges house, messing with Tom's wife, these all sent messages that the decision made against Tom was obviously wrong. The court's decision gave Tom no choice but to run causing him to die.