WHERE WOULD WE BE WITHOUT STORIES?

Stories are how explain our past. It's how we show who we love and why. Without the stories, we would be lost and even in some ways we wouldn't have the sense of morals that we do now.

“Bury me and I'll thrive as countless insects
I bend neither to your weapon nor will
Even as you trample upon my bones
I cower not under your soulless tread
Or fear your shadow casting upon my grave.”

Without this story from her father Raami wouldn't have been able to come to grips with her father's death.
