

A misty forest scene with the word "Lost" written in a white outline font. The forest is dense with green trees and a path leads into the distance. The word "Lost" is positioned in the lower-left quadrant of the image, rendered in a white, hand-drawn outline style. The background is a lush green forest with a thick mist or fog, creating a sense of depth and mystery. The lighting is soft and diffused, typical of a misty day. The ground is covered in fallen leaves and twigs, suggesting a natural, untamed environment. The overall mood is serene yet slightly eerie due to the mist.
