

Printmaking is a form of art. It is when you etch out a piece of art on a block of some sort, an example is wood. Then you put ink over the block with the art, and press a piece of paper on the block and transfer the art. The invention of printmaking was so revolutionary because, now different art pieces and books can be mass produced. This really furthered the technology of art.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Plate_20-_wolf,_from_%27Various_animals%27_\(Diversi_animali\)_MET_DP817_868.jpg_MET_DP817_868.jpg)

This print shows really well the surroundings of the wolf. It also shows the emotions of the wolf. Maybe it is saying that he is hungry? I think this art is artistically pleasing because of the emotions on the wolf's face. I notice that the wolf is in a desert. I wonder why the wolf is sad. I wonder if he is hungry because of drought.

