

The Mysterious Lady

It was a cold, dark, and stormy night in Doylestown, PA. Three news reporters, Jared Subway, Rudy Stewart, and Kyle Harris are assigned to go report at an Abandoned apartment on Old Oak street because there were local residents that reported a lady walking into the apartment. The three reporters are driving in their van searching for this apartment.

“What street is this apartment on?” Jared looked at his phone, trying to pull up a map.

“Um...O-Old Oak street Jared.” Kyle replied.

“What’s wrong Kyle? You seem really scared about this news story.” Rudy asked.

“Yeah because I remember reading about this apartment, It has ghosts!”

“Now Kyle there’s no such thing as ghost. That’s nothing but science fiction.” Jared said

The Crew put on they’re rain jackets and begin to exit the van as they’re getting ready to broadcast. Rudy, the camera man, is holding the camera while Kyle sits in the car as he stares at the apartment with fear in his eyes.

“3...2...1...Action!” Rudy said.

“Good evening everyone Jared Subway here coming at you guys live at the abandoned apartment on Old Oak street. Now it is said by local residents that a lady was seen walking into this apartment around noon yesterday.” Jared looked at the camera as he spoke.

The door of the apartment slowly opened while Jared continued to talk. Both Rudy and Kyle noticed the door opening but Jared did not notice because his back was turned to the apartment. Jared then noticed that Rudy had a scared look on his face “Wait What’s wrong?” Jared asked Rudy.

“Turn around, Look the door is open!” Rudy said as his voice begins to fade away.

“Maybe you guys should get back into the car now!” Kyle screamed.

“Wait I have to go inside to investigate and you too are coming with me.” Jared said

“Oh no! Screw that man I’m leaving.” Kyle said

“Wait Kyle don’t leave!” Jared said.

“Who’s going to stop me?” Kyle asked.

“Shall I get the boss on the phone and tell him that you haven’t did anything for the report?” Jared asked “Fine let’s go.” Kyle finally agrees.

The crew walk up to the door of the apartment as they all take deep breaths before walking in. The lobby of the apartment was mostly dark with one light turned on but it was flickering on and off like someone was switching the light switch. They then see an elevator and Rudy tries to press the button, but the elevator appeared to be broken. So the crew took the stairs next to the elevator up to the first floor where they see this long hallway with doors lined up on each side. The apartment had 5 floors and the crew was determined to check all 5 floors to find the lady that was seen walking into the apartment the day before. They take the stairs to the first floor and as they are walking they hear a loud scream.

“Uh-guys what was that noise?” Kyle asked

“It sounded like a scream, maybe that was the lady that walked in here yesterday” Rudy asked.

They ran down the hall to the last room where the scream was coming from. Jared began to open the door slowly as Rudy and Kyle followed him in.

“Hello? Anyone here? Jared asked. Suddenly, they hear a glass shatter and see Freddy Krueger walk in from the other room staring at them with an angry look on his face.

“Get out! Get out now!” he said as he started running towards him.

“Oh my god run!” Kyle said in a high pitched voice as the crew ran away.

As they were running, They all decided to split up and hide inside different rooms on the floor. Jared went to hide inside a room on the left side of the hallway and Rudy went to go hide in a room on the right side of the hallway. But as Kyle was running, he tripped on the carpet that was on the floor. Freddy ran up to Kyle with a evil smile on his face as he raised his claw up with the intention to stab Kyle. But before he could get the chance to, Jared comes out of the room from where he was hiding from and stabbed Freddy in the neck. Freddy screams as he falls to the ground in pain.

“Oh my god we gotta get out of here guys!” Kyle said as he runs away. Kyle runs down the stairs to the lobby to go out of the front door, but it was locked. Kyle begins to pull harder on the door, but it will not budge. Kyle then runs back up the stairs to reunite with Jared and Rudy.

“The doors locked” Kyle explained.

“Well we might as well find that lady” Jared said.

The group walk up the next flight of stairs to the second floor. The second floor looked a little different from the first floor. The only difference was that there was a huge door at the end of the hall. They walk towards it and as they got closer, they hear growling on the other side of it. Suddenly, a surreal beast burst open the door and roars. It was a flying lion.

“What is this place?” Kyle screamed in fear as the beast flew over them scratching the walls and ripping the paintings off the wall.

The beast grabs Rudy and throws him down the hallway. The beast then grabs Jared and throws him down the hallway with Rudy. Jared and Rudy are then severely hurt so they get up and start limping towards the monster to try and stop him from attacking Kyle. They both start throwing the pieces of the shattered statue at the beast to attract it's attention. The beast then chases them down the hall and Kyle goes into one of the rooms that was on the floor. He checks about 3 rooms for anything he can use as a weapon before he finds finds a room that had a pistol with one bullet. Kyle then picks up the gun and puts the bullet inside. He knew that he only had one shot at killing the beast so he knew he had to land it. But the problem was, Kyle never shot a gun in his life so his chances of hitting the beast from down the hallway weren't high. While Jared and Rudy are still throwing the broken statue pieces at the beast, Jared notices that Kyle found a gun in one of the rooms.

“Shoot It! Shoot it now!” Jared screamed.

“B-but I don’t know how to shoot a gun. I never went to the shooting range!” Kyle explained.

“Just try it!” Jared yelled out.

“But I only have one bullet If I miss it’s we’re screwed!” Kyle said.

“Just aim and pull the trigger! Jared said

“O-ok!” Kyle screamed. Kyle aims the gun at the beast then pulls the trigger. The bullet flies out the gun and hits the beast in the back of the head. The beast roars then falls to the ground and then turns into dust.

“Woah that was close!” Rudy said.

“I-I did it!” Kyle screamed.

“Nice shot Kyle I knew you could do it.” Jared said

“Thanks Jared.” Kyle replied.

“When we get out of here I’ll teach you how to shoot a gun” Jared said.

“Ok.” Kyle answered

“Now onto the next floor!” Jared said.

“I wish there was a way out of here.” Kyle said.

“Oh no I forgot the camera in the car!” Rudy said.

“Crap I just realized too!” Jared said.what we found

“What are we gonna tell the boss? We were supposed to record everything that we see.” Kyle asked.

“The best thing I can think of is saying that it ran out of battery life” Rudy said.

“We’ll figure that out later, right now we have to focus on the task at hand.” Jared said.

“Alright then let’s go to the next floor” Rudy said.

The crew starts to walk up the stairs to the third floor. The design of this floor was different from floors one and two. This hallway was wider and it had an elevator at the end of the hallway.

“I wonder if that elevator works because those stairs are a killer!” Kyle said.

“Kyle, there are only 5 steps per flight of stairs” Rudy said”

“Yeah but when you’re this much out of shape they feel like 15 stairs.” Kyle replied.

“Hahaha, you don’t look out of shape.” Jared said

“Whatever dude.” Kyle responded. As the crew were searching the rooms to see if the lady was in one of them. Each of them found a weapon in the room that they were in.

Jared found a golden dagger, Rudy found a ghost vacuum, and Kyle found a flame night vision goggles. The elevator doors begin to open by themselves and a quiet voice echoed down the hallway.

“Go away!” the voice said. The voice became loud enough for the crew to hear it. Once they heard it, they all came out of the rooms that they were in.

“Guys, what was that noise?” Kyle asked

“It sounded like someone was saying go away” Rudy explained

“Someone... or something.” Jared said.

“What do you mean by that?” Kyle asked. Suddenly, a ghost with a blanket over its head appears and lets out a loud scream. The ghost then takes off the blanket over its head so it will be invisible to the crew. The ghost then grabs Kyle and Jared then throws them inside one of the rooms on the floor. Rudy realizes that he has a ghost vacuum to trap the ghost in. But he can’t catch what he can’t see. Both Jared and Kyle are unconscious.

“Kyle I need those glasses! Kyle! Kyle!” Rudy screamed.

Rudy didn’t notice that Jared and Kyle were unconscious so he kept calling their names hoping that they would hear him. Rudy runs into the room to try and wake them up but they are unresponsive. Rudy then grabs the goggles that Kyle found and put them on. Now that he has the goggles on, he can see exactly where the ghost is. He looks all around for the ghost, but it is nowhere to be found.

“Where are you, you stupid ghost?” Rudy whispers to himself.

The ghost then comes through the ceiling to try and grab Rudy but he quickly moves out of the way and turns on his ghost vacuum and traps the ghost inside of the vacuum.

“Another close call” Rudy said.

“Now I should go try and wake Jared and Kyle up.

“Guys wake up, I got the ghost I got him!”

“Oh man! I have a headache” Kyle said as he awoke.

“You got him?” Jared asked

“Yes I did! It was hard but i managed to trap him in this vacuum” Rudy said.

“Nice work, lets keep going.” Jared said.

They continue to walk up to the next floor. This floor had the same design as the previous floor, but everything was made out of glass. The floors, the walls and even the ceiling. The floor felt like it was going to break everytime they took a step.

“It feels like we’re going to fall through the floor.” Jared said.

“I hope not, because this floor looks pretty cool” Kyle said.

“Yeah well you won’t be thinking it’s pretty cool when you fall down through the floor Jared said.

“I won’t fall through the floor, even though it’s glass it still feels stable.” Kyle said.

“Yeah, yeah let’s search this floor, maybe this is the floor that the lady is on.” Jared said.

“Hopefully because I’m trying to get out of here” Kyle said.

While the guys were checking the rooms, they could hear the sound of broken glass.

The crew walk out of the room to try and see where the sound of broken glass came from. When they walked out of the rooms, they saw that the walls were shattered and they see Jason Voorhees standing where the glass wall used to be.

“Oh my goodness it’s Jason Voorhees, my biggest fear!” Rudy said.

“I don’t think we can take this guy on, we gotta hide!” Kyle said.

The group splits up into different rooms and begin to hide. In the room that Kyle was in he hid under a table in the dining room, Rudy hid in a cabinet, and Jared hid in the closet. Jason then walks into the room that Jared is hiding in.

“I know you’re in here! Come out now and don’t make me come find you.” he said.

Jared is checking his pockets for the golden dagger that he found on the second floor, but it wasn't there. When Jared got knocked out, his dagger fell out of his pocket and he didn't realize it.

"Oh no, What do i do." Jared said to himself

Jason then swings open the of the closet that Jared was hiding in and finds Jared.

"You shouldn't have came in here now you must die!" Jason said. Rudy then charged in with the golden dagger while Kyle was throwing the shattered pieces of glass at Jason.

But the glass did not seem to phase Jason at all. Jason walked towards Kyle but before he could get to him, Rudy stabs Jason in the chest with the dagger and Jason falls to the ground.

"Let's get to this last floor, she has to up there" Jared said.

They walk up to the 5th and final floor to look for the lady. This floor was very different from all the other floors. This floor didn't have any rooms. It just had a chair at the end of the hallway and I giant door behind it. The door begins to open and the woman that was seen walking into the apartment walked out of it. She was an old lady with grey hair.

"Who might you young men be?" She asked

"We're news reporters that were sent here to report about a woman that was seen walking in here, I'm guessing that's you?" Jared said.

"Yes, Yes, that is me. She said

"So why are you here?" Jared asked.

“I lived in this apartment when it was still occupied, but my husband was murdered in this building which is why it was closed down. His spirit still lurks in this building” She said.

“Ohhh that makes since” Rudy said.

“Ok just one more question, What’s with Freddy Kruger and all the other monsters that we saw?” Kyle said.

“Monsters? Those are just illusions. They may have looked real but they were just in your imagination.”

“Oh that’s weird because they felt real since they actually hurt us.” Kyle said.

“Yes, my husband’s spirit makes people imagine things and feel physical pain from it.” She said.

“Ohh ok. Kyle said.”

“Well we must go, thank you for explaining this mysterious story.” Jared said.

“You’re welcome.” The woman said.

“Bye!” Kyle said.

The elevators started to work again so the guys took the elevator to the lobby. The door opened easily now and they walked out of the apartment.
