

Anti-Defamation League. "Myths and Facts About Immigrants and Immigration (En Español)." Anti-Defamation League, www.adl.org/resources/fact-sheets/myths-and-facts-about-immigrants-and-immigration-en-espanol.

This source provides myths that people often assume about immigrants and refugees and provides facts that debunk these misconceptions. I chose this source because it provides statistics that prove these myths to be wrong. I found this source useful because it helps me understand what people think and how they feel about refugees and immigrants. One limitation of this source was that it only had 10 myths.

Council on Foreign Relations. "How Does the U.S. Refugee System Work?" Council on Foreign Relations, Council on Foreign Relations, Oct. 2018, www.cfr.org/backgrounders/how-does-us-refugee-system-work.

This source provides information about how the refugee resettlement process works and gives more information about how refugees are accepted into the U.S. and different kinds of setbacks that they have sometimes. I selected this source because it is from the Council on Foreign Relations which is accurate information. I found this source useful because I was able to compare it from other sources to make sure I was getting the right resettlement process. There were no limitations of this source.

Cultural Orientation Resource Exchange . "About Refugee Populations - Cultural Orientation Resource Exchange." CORE, Oct. 2008, coresourceexchange.org/refugee-populations/.

This source provides information about refugee populations and where most of them come from. It provides information about 5 different countries and each country's culture, history, religion, education, language, and resettlement needs. I selected this source because it gives information about the different countries immigrants and refugees come from and their needs they need from each country. This source has a few limitations it does not provide all of the countries that refugees and immigrants come from.

immigrationforum.org/article/fact-sheet-u-s-refugee-resettlement/.

This source provides information about refugee resettlement and kind of describes what a refugee is and their reasoning for coming to the united states. It also gives information about what qualifies for a refugee to be accepted into the U.S. I selected this source because it explains the background information of the resettlement process. This source does not have any limitations.

Elmir R, Schmied V, Jackson D, Wilkes I (2011) Interviewing people about potentially sensitive topics. Nurse Researcher. 19, 1, 12-16.

<https://pdfs.semanticscholar.org/ec96/86a8d09b019e6919f4e790160d5f11740074.pdf>

This source provides information about how to ask people questions that are sensitive and something personal that they go through. I selected this source because it gave the most helpful information than any other source I found. I chose to use this source because i am going to be asking students some questions that may be sensitive to them.

Heil, Ed. “How to Make an Emotional Video.” Inbound Marketing Agency & Video

Production Company, StoryTeller , 25 Sept. 2016, www.storytellermn.com/blog/how-to-make-emotional-video.

This source provides information about how to bring emotion to a video when you want it to make an impact. I want my video to leave an impact on people and have them put themselves in the interviewees shoes and have them understand what the truth is. I found this source useful because it gives strategies to bring emotion into a video instead of it just being a visual with words with it.

HIASPA. "Talking Points." HIAS Pennsylvania, hiaspa.org/the-issues/resources/talking-points/.

This source is informative because it talks about the certain points and misconceptions that people make about refugees. It is helpful because it is from an actual organization that helps place refugees during the resettlement process.

Rebecca, Rebecca Whitaker. "Filming an Interview: How to Make Good Interview Videos."

Vidyard, 15 Jan. 2020, www.vidyard.com/blog/interview-videos/.

This source is helpful because it tells and gives strategies to be able to conduct a proper interview and
