As I was scrolling through tiktok, a man with a robotic hand appears on my for you page. I think and wonder, “How is this possible?” I look through his account and realize that all his videos are about his robotic hand but only one video went viral and he now has over 2 million followers. I check the comments and everyone is asking where do they get it? How much does it cost? When was this made? My friends then started facetimeing me and I answer.

“Bro have you seen this new type of plastic surgery?” Betsy says in excitement.

“Yesss girl, it’s incredible! I wish I could get robotic legs but it’s too much money.”

Rebecca adds, “I heard it’s around $1,000 or so.”

“Is it even worth it though? What makes it so special?” I ask my friends with a serious face.
