

Triple Double Bubba

Bubba woke up to the sound of an older bird chirping he could tell it was an older bird because the chirp was raspy. Bubba shot up from his bed and slipped on his fuzzy bear slippers he walked to the end of the hallway into his mother's room filled with pictures of him and his older brothers Nabbu and Kyrie, the room was filled with ancient future that looked like it was from the 70s but Bubba never knew for sure. He grabs onto a Brass Bronze handle that was craved like a feather on his mother's draw to grab her medicine Bubba softly shook his mother awake and told her "Good morning." His mom turned over to look at him.

"Good morning Bubba!" The way she said it Good morning she sounded grateful to see Bubba's face. He gave his mom a nice smile when she said his name. Bubba helped his mom get up he gave her pills that she knew how to take herself then Bubba helped her onto her wheelchair and wheeled her into the bathroom and let her brush her own teeth and face because today was a special day. Today Bubba was going to take his mom to her favorite diner.

Nabbu

Nabbu was closing the store after a long day of work He closed the metal gate On the way to his car some kids walked past and amongst them, sleeves asked each other if it was really him. Nabbu thought that sneakers wouldn't get him this far but they did. Nabbu opened the door to his Porsche and got in and was instantly reminded to get the car vacuumed and wash because he had seen the little crumbs of animal crackers and gummy bears he didn't even want to look at the car seat. Nabbu was in the nice red leather driver's seat and put the key in the extinction and got on the road Nabbu never realized how big new york was until he moved out of the city. His store was in the city so the drive home was always long Nabbu would rather think to himself after a long day than listen to music. While Nabbu drives he thinks about the store and far it has come but the store has interfered heavily with Nabbu's relationships with his kids He doesn't spend that much time with them and he is really only home when he doesn't have to travel or open the store. He looked at the car mirror and looked at the picture of his son

Maj and daughter Arianna. It hurt knowing that he wasn't around for his son all the time because when he was younger his dad worked all the time and when he died Nabbu resented his father and swore to never put work over his family but he did.

Kyrie

Kyrie walked to the front of the locker room souped up in designer brand clothes the life of a Nba player seemed pretty lavish and he liked it. Kyrie greeted his teammates and put on his jerseys and shorts and some custom Kobes and proceed to walk out onto the court with his team. When Kyrie stepped out it was so loud that it took a min for his ears to adjust then herald the cheers and the stomp of the crowd it made his heart beat a little faster he tapped his hands to every person he ran past and walk onto the court. When Kyrie got the ball he shot a couple of deep threes but then he thought about this dunk that he wanted to do in a game so he wanted to try it before shooting around where over one the refs passed Kyrie the ball Kyrie Jumped into the air but his body looked like it was sitting down he passed the ball to his right hand then palmed the ball and SLAMMED it in. As he walked off he imagined himself on the cover of 2k when he did this pose. The game was bout to start one of Kyrie's teammates said "You got a new cut"

Kyrie said

“ Yes,” Firmly Kyrie was a little crikey he had got to the stadium a little late. The words Brooklyn shined on Kyires Jerseys It problem just the light of the Jumbo Tron The announcer started to call their names

Despite all the star veterans on his team Kyrie was the best and got the team 5 consecutive rings he has been on the cover of 2k twice and has dealt with Nike. The Nets had played Philadelphia today and it was the fourth quarter ninety-four to eighty-four it was only one minute left and Kyrie really wanted to try that dunk so called for the ball and dribble his way through traffic and jumped but this time he felt something swing his feet and the last this he saw was the polished wooden floors.

Nabbu knew that his brother didn't see his kid sense they were babies so he got the kids dressed and they got in the car and drove to the hospital. When they got there Nabbu walked into the room and his mouth flew open. Nabbu didn't see his little brother sense he went to college.
