

Work Cited

Dirkson, Menika. "The Graffiti Art Movement in Philadelphia." Picturing Black History,

<https://picturingblackhistory.org/the-graffiti-art-movement-in-philadelphia/>. Accessed 13 February

2026

The reason why I believe this source is heavy useful and irrelevant site from my capstone because this website tells me the graffiti are movement in Philadelphia and other words, the history of artwork all around Philadelphia, and it brings me back all the way to 1965 where a few black teenagers called themselves wall writers and created a movement, and it talks about the history of graffiti all around Philadelphia. Even talk about the meaning behind them, the ups and downs, and how it became popular, still to this day, this website will give me a better understanding of why there are multiple murals and artworks all over Philadelphia.

Works Cited

Bresson, Jacob. "10+ TIPS Painting in Stairwells and Other Tight Spaces!" YouTube, 25

January 2020, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dkr9jPDWMIe>.

This small short 7 1/2 minute video it's also beneficial for me and my captain because since I'm still kind of a beginner of painting staircases, this video shows me the tools needed the safety requirements like having a mask surroundings extension pools but also not just what I need but also how I can paint the SLS still well because knowing how SLA stairwells are, they can get kind of hot so knowing what type of paint I need really important because I don't want the paint to rip off or melt. I want it to be just right.

Work Cited

"The Inexpensive Way to Paint a Stairwell." The Inexpensive Way to Paint a Stairwell, KC

Coake, 9 September 2019,

https://realcreativerealorganized.com/paint-a-stairwell/#:~:text=How%20to%20Paint%20A%20Stairwell%20*%20Paint..Corner%20Painter\(affiliate%20link\)%20*%20Edge%20Painter\(affiliate%20link\).%20*%20Edge%20Painter(affiliate%20link).)

This website is also another source of how to teach me how to paint a Estero, but I just had to paint a stairwell with a inexpensive way if it continues to get a supplies that I need and where I can get them along with steps I can use it's going to the YouTube video, but it's more like they're there like a mentor for an example. It says then "you have to move it back-and-forth slowly at the top of the wall to cut. It's not quick work. It takes patience". that's what I think stands out more to this website.

Work Cited

"How to stencil a stairwell." <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=z2vw5ftbSCM>.

This started citation is another YouTube video, but this video is about how to stencil a stencil, anything but a staircase. Looking at this video. Let me know what is how to stencil, what it takes, and an effective way to stencil, because for this project, stenciling is really important when we're talking about neatness and organization. Without stenciling, the words may be unaligned, cricket and don't look nice. So essentially stencils make them neat, nice, straight, and all those types of things, and I believe stealing this stairwell is the 5 quart values is a really good and important step for SLA in the future

Work Cited

“Types of Paint Finishes, Sheens and Textures.” The Home Depot, 25 February 2025,

<https://www.homedepot.com/c/ab/types-of-paint-finishes-sheens-and-textures/9ba683603be9fa5395fab90088c3de3>. Accessed 13 February 2026.

I feel like I have all the websites. This website by Home Depot is the one I liked the best. Not just because of Home Depot, but the main purpose of the store is for things like construction, painting, and all those types of things. Also, Home Depot is where I get all my materials from, so I'm getting the materials. I can ask people who have experienced painting questions so they can give me the best benefits and tips I need. On the Home Depot website, it tells me the types of paints, the sheen textures, and the interior paint.

Work Cited

Dale, Timothy. “What's the Best Temperature for Painting Indoors? We Asked a Paint Pro, and It's Not as Hot as You Think.” The Spruce, 6 January 2026, <https://www.thespruce.com/best-temperature-for-painting-indoors-11870038>. Accessed 13 February 2026.

This source is important because when painting, especially on the SLA stairwell, it can get really hot, so we don't want to paint, rubbing off, melting, or any of those types of things. This source tells me what type of paint I need, the texture ideas, how about painted, and all those sorts of things? This is also an important step for pain because not just the words that I'm going to paint but also designs that represent all five core values, and we're gonna do that on all five floors, so because of this, I don't want any of the paint to mess up. I wanted it to last as long as it can last.

Work Cited

“Best Weather Conditions for Interior Painting.” CertaPro Painters, 4 October 2020, <https://certapro.com/fort-wayne/community/best-weather-temperatures-for-interior-painting/>.
Accessed 13 February 2026.

This site, Centra pro painters, is also a website that tells me the best conditions to get the best quality of paint for my project, especially interior and stillwell, and it continues to tell me that latex-based paints and oil-based paint are best for 80 to 50° Fahrenheit or 40 and 90°F. It continues to tell me the humidity levels and drying times of painting. It says. In areas that experience high humidity, for example, the stairwell, moisture in the air can be a concern, and as moisture builds up, it slows down dry times and dries out the paint.

Work Cited

The BEST Brush to Use for Painting with Stencils [The BEST Brush to Use for Painting with Stencils]. The BEST Brush to Use for Painting with Stencils, https://www.youtube.com/shorts/olcuExu_Ujs.

This source is the best source for me and my capstone project because it is an important part that will make my project, which is about brushes. The brush isn't just how I paint, it's what I paint, what there is. For example, a video on YouTube shows flare brushes and how they have a chance of bleeding under the stencil and the project. But the dome brush is shaped all around so that when I'm stenciling, the tip is only hitting the project. Which prevents bleeding under. So even though this video is short, it teaches me what I should look for, how brushes should be, and how quality means a lot.

Work Cited

“How to Choose a Paint Roller Cover.” Purdy,
<https://www.purdy.com/en/painting-resources/painting-faqs/how-to-choose-a-roller-cover>.
Accessed 18 March 2026.

This website tells me the basics and how to use the paint roller cover. I believe when doing a large project, paper rollers are the ones that keep in mind or use, and it tells me different materials. I can use more than fabrics, which include Michael fibers and hair, and this will prevent lint and provide a smooth finish. Another type of material is fabrics. It's like a polyester that can cover more paint and large areas, which could be helpful. They also tell me about the nap size and the thickness, but it also depends on the environmental factors of temperature and humidity, so I wouldn't need like a lower nap, but I'm working with brick, and it says I need a bigger nap. Then it continues to tell me the roller sizes and the paint type.

Work Cited

"Interior Paint." The Home Depot, <https://www.homedepot.com/b/Paint-Interior-Paint/N-5yc1vZbbbp>. Accessed 18 March 2026.

On the last source, this source is just like the last source, but it's from Home Depot, the number one home improvement retailer. So I believe in this more in a way, but this just tells me all the types of paint I can use, like interior paint, paint supplies, interior paint spray, and all different types of colors. They have in stock because this is the store I'm gonna be gone for my paint and my materials and so what kind of just gives me a little sneak peek of I could be looking for what I'm looking at and when I get there to store, I can also ask questions about what situation and how I can get the best results for our project is best paint paper stencils all those type of things.