The Myth of Prometheus

- ◆ There was a next stage in Prometheus' career that was a benefactor of mankind. Zeus and Prometheus were developing the ceremonial forms for animal sacrifice. Prometheus had devised a sure-fire way to help man. He divided the slaughtered animal parts into two packets. In one packet there was the ox-meat and the innards were wrapped up in the stomach lining.
- ◆ In the other packet there were ox-bones wrapped up in its own rich fat. One of the bones would go to the gods and the other's would go to the humans. The Humans would make the sacrifice. Prometheus had presented Zeus with a choice between the two, and Zeus took the deceptively richer appearing. Zeus had taken the fat-encased, but inedible bones.

Symbols For Prometheus

- ◆ Prometheus had many symbols in the story. Prometheus's symbol was fire. This symbol was a precious gift to the mortals. Prometheus got this symbol because he had taken a flaming torch representing the fire to the gods and gave it also to the people. The fire represents power which Prometheus gave to the people.

Qualities

- ◆ Prometheus had many qualities. Prometheus was known for his swiftness, cunning, strength, fur and wings.

Family or Lover

- ◆ Prometheus had many family relatives. His father was Iapetus and his mother was Clymene. He had many brothers who's names were Atlas, Epimetheus and Menoetius. Prometheus also had many grandchildren, Aunt's, Uncles and Cousin's in his family.

Enemies

- ◆ There were many big enemies that Prometheus had.

Surprisingly Zeus was Prometheus's biggest enemy. Cronus and Eagle were also Prometheus greatest enemies. Other than them Prometheus got along with other people.

Where they're From

- ◆ Prometheus is from Ancient Greece. From my research I assume that Prometheus's family is from Ancient Greece.

Why does the myth Exist?

- ◆ I believe that this myth exist because it teaches people how to give to others in need. Prometheus was a hero to many people who were in need. Prometheus had given people power from the fire that he had from the torch.

Your Take Away

- ◆ From this myth, I believe that we all need to know how to give. It is better to give than receive things in life. Prometheus had given the people power from the fire. He thought that it was better to give than receive things. He known that the people needed strength. This Myth had taught me many things about giving.

- ◆ This myth had also taught me how to be strong in myself. Prometheus was a brave person and he really wanted to please people with all of his awesome powers. He has never given up for nothing. He always thought before he made big decisions. Prometheus always was a challenging person.

He really was loved by many people because of all of his accomplishments. But some didn't really like because of his certain powers and his behavior towards things. So he really stayed strong in himself even though some people didn't like him. I learned that sometimes when things don't go your way you have to suck it up and deal with it and that was the thing that Prometheus did.
